THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES OF NORWAY

A historical map of a fortified city, likely from the 17th or 18th century. The city is enclosed by a complex, multi-layered defensive wall with bastions. The interior is dominated by a large, central grid of red-colored blocks, possibly representing a main residential or administrative area. A blue river or canal flows through the city, with several bridges crossing it. The map is labeled with various letters (A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z) and numbers (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100). A compass rose is visible on the left side, and a fleur-de-lis is at the top left. The text "ISEGRAND" is written in the upper left, and "GLUM" and "ELV" are visible in the center. The overall style is that of a hand-drawn or engraved historical map.

A historical map of a fortified city, likely from the 17th or 18th century. The map shows a central red-colored grid representing the city's layout, surrounded by a complex system of fortifications and bastions. The city is situated on a riverbank, with a large body of water labeled 'GLOMMEN = ELV' (Glommen River) flowing through it. Various fortifications are labeled with letters: 'M' for a central bastion, 'H' for a bastion on the left, 'B' for a bastion at the bottom left, 'C' for a bastion at the bottom center, 'D' for a bastion on the right, and 'L' for a bastion at the top right. A compass rose is visible on the left side of the map. The text 'ISEGRAND' is written in the upper left corner. The overall style is that of an old, hand-drawn map with a muted color palette.

News from the Digital Archives

April 21, 2016: More transcriptions from the church registers are published today. Please go to the Most Recent 100 list for details.

We encourage you to read the news concerning the scanned archives. From April 27 you will have to use the new service for the scanned archives for the real estate registers. And from May 2 you will also have to use the new service for the church registers. Read more about this change.

April 19, 2016: Nearly 100 new transcriptions are now available for search. Check out the Most Recent 100 for the complete list. We also welcome Jon Sværen, Torill Fagernes Molund and Grete Marry Brøste welcome as new guests in the Digital Inn.

April 6, 2016: A lot of new data is now listed in the Most Recent 100. Although the news feed has been absent, we continuously upload transcribed records. The records are transcribed from church registers and the 1891 census. Those records marked with RHD means that they are sent from The Norwegian Historical Data Centre and these records are also available on their site.

We are aware of the problems with the scanned church registers. You will not find these problems on the new site for the scanned church registers. We strongly

There are many other tools to help you

- Literature about your topic of interest – particularly bygdebøker (village books) and local/family history.
- The online forums on the Digital Archives.
- Analogue catalogues/guides to archives – in reading rooms.
- Ask a member of staff when you visit us.
- Send us an enquiry – contact info at www.arkivverket.no.

Future plans

- A historical map of a city, likely London, showing a central area shaded in red. The map includes a compass rose in the bottom left corner and various labels such as 'SEGAND', 'GLO', and 'LEV'. The map is overlaid with a list of bullet points.
- Re-organisation of the National Archives.
  - New website in 2017 – more use-friendly & more self-service.
  - Some paid services may be introduced – i.e. genealogical research and digitalisation on demand.
  - Focus on digitalisation – more material online on the Digital Archives.
  - 1 Dec 2020: The census of 1920 will be released to the public.
  - Digital Archives 3.0.

A historical map of a fortified city, likely from the 17th or 18th century. The map shows a central red-colored grid representing the city's layout, surrounded by a complex system of fortifications and bastions. The city is situated on a riverbank, with a large body of water labeled 'GLOMMEN = ELV' (Glommen = Elv) flowing through it. Various parts of the city and its defenses are labeled with letters: 'M' for a central structure, 'L' for a bastion, 'H' for a bastion, 'B' for a bastion, 'C' for a bastion, 'D' for a bastion, 'K' for a bastion, and 'G' for a bastion. A compass rose is visible on the left side of the map. The text 'ISEGRAND' is written in the upper left corner. The overall style is that of an old, hand-drawn map with some color washes.

Norwegian-Americans welcome!

A historical architectural plan of a fortified city, likely from the 17th or 18th century. The map shows a central red-colored grid of streets within a complex, multi-layered defensive wall system. Various structures are labeled with letters: 'M' for a central tower or bastion, 'L' for a smaller structure, 'H', 'B', 'C', 'D', 'E', 'F', 'G', 'I', and 'K' for other fortifications or buildings. A large blue area represents a river or canal, with the label 'GLOMMEN = ELV' written across it. In the upper left, a smaller island or peninsula is labeled 'ISEGRAND'. A compass rose is visible on the left side of the map. The overall style is that of a hand-drawn or engraved historical map.

Some final thoughts

- A historical map of a city, likely Oslo, Norway, showing a large red rose in the center and a compass rose in the bottom left. The map features a grid of streets and various buildings, with the word 'GLOMME' visible in the background. The text is overlaid on the map.
- Everyone is welcome to visit Norwegian archives and libraries.
  - Requesting and using material is free.
  - Most of our material has unrestricted access.
  - We can offer advice but you have to do the research yourself.
  - Using archives takes time and patience.
  - But it is also rewarding and can be a lot of fun!
